

COVID-19 Impact of Stimulation, Income Mobility, Taxes

Economic inequality is a central theme in the Presidential campaign. Progressives have proposed that one way to reduce inequality is with a tax on the accumulated wealth of the richest Americans, yet an influential theory in economics, endorsed by the right, argues that the ideal tax on wealth is zero. Is a wealth tax a good idea, a bad idea, or both?

June 11, 2020

Zoom Webinar and Facebook Live-Stream

7:30 pm to 9:30 pm

Please RSVP at www.nfrpp.org

CO-SPONSORS:

APS

ACADEMY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

Eric Schoenberg Speaker and Professor Columbia University

Peter Coy
Moderator/Discussant

The Puffin Foundation, Ltd. is a proud co-sponsor of this event.